Dear Mr. Weisberg:

Herewith are two recent issues of American History Illustrated. Each features one of my articles.

As mentioned, I have been assigned to do a piece marking the 25th anniversary of the assassination of President Kennedy. I hope to include in the article a sidebar describing the work done by several "seekers" -- your, certainly, singular among them -- who have tried to delve into and beyond the "official" versions of the tragedy.

Will call you shortly.

Sincerely,

Edward Oxford
